

Lenahan & Dempsey Settles Accident Case for $7,000,000

Case involves a Tunkhannock man injured in a car/truck accident

Attorney Joseph Lenahan

A 30 year old Wyoming County man will receive a $7 million settlement after he was severely injured by a tractor-trailer. Jesse Prebola was driving along Route 29 shortly before midnight in October of 2010. His car slammed into a tractor-trailer that was blocking his lane of the roadway while attempting to make a delivery at Tunkhannock Auto Mart.

Attorney Joseph Lenahan of Lenahan & Dempsey represented Prebola's family. "This was a horrible accident that leaves our client with the need for life-long medical care. This settlement will insure he will receive that care while also meeting the needs of his family. It was an honor working on this case and working with this family."

Joseph Lenahan is Best Lawyers In America's Personal Injury Lawyer of the Year for the region covering Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley.

Also representing the Prebola family were the law firms of Hourigan Kluger & Quinn and Hiscox and Musto, both of Kingston.

"Jesse Prebola was in a coma for 30 days following the accident," said Joseph Lenahan. "This was a life-changing accident and should put all big truck operators on notice that local residents will not allow themselves to be victims and that we will fight for their rights."
