Winter Driving

By Attorney Joseph Lenahan

ATTORNEY JOSEPH LENAHAN

It's been a long tough winter, and we still have some winter ahead of us. Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania have suffered multiple snowfalls which in turn have led to poor road conditions, and unfortunately accidents. If you have been involved in a serious car or truck accident, there are a number of steps you need to take:

- Don't panic. What appears to be smoke in your car may in fact be smoke; it may also be powder from your air bag. Assume it is smoke and try to remain calm.
- Turn off your engine - this may help delay a possible fire. As calmly as possible, unbuckle your seat belt and get out of the car. Free yourself and then assist your passengers. Don't risk your life or your safety retrieving belongings.
- Call 911. Even if there are no injuries you may need police assistance and your insurance company may require a police report. If the other driver says there's no need to call 911, call anyway.
- Be aware of your surroundings. Make sure you are not in danger of being hit by another car. All too often motorists are hit by other cars following an accident, especially at night or on slippery roads.
- Collect information from the other driver. Pennsylvania law requires you to exchange names, phone numbers and insurance information at the scene of the accident.
- Don't sign anything unless it's a police issued ticket, citation or accident report.
- Get medical assistance. Shock and adrenalin can mask serious injury.
- Inform your insurance company as soon as possible. If possible take multiple photos of the accident scene with your cell phone camera.
- Don't discuss the accident with anyone other than police.
- Call Lenahan & Dempsey. There are a number of steps you may need to take to protect your rights. We can help.
